DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

 Applicant's arguments filed 4/29/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

 In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPO 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Malik teaches a method and system that enable the provider to charge for Internet access service (i.e., "services") via prepaid services. Dahari on the other hand, provides integrated VPN services with prepaid services. Thus, the combination of Malik and Dahari would result in billing or charging of VPN service via prepaid methodologies which deducting for services rendered from prepaid account. Therefore, the combination teaches the features as claimed.
